

WHEREAS; severe thunderstorms can produce tornadoes, strong winds, large hail, flash flooding, and dangerous lightning, all of which can threaten the safety and property of all Wisconsinites and critical state infrastructure; and

WHEREAS; according to Wisconsin Emergency Management (WEM) and the National Weather Service, the state had 39 confirmed tornadoes in 2025; and

WHEREAS; the state also saw sharp swings in temperature and precipitation in 2025, including historic rainfall in August, which set a new 24-hour rainfall record for the state and caused significant damage to homes, buildings, infrastructure, and natural areas; and

WHEREAS; Wireless Emergency Alerts, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration Weather Radios, and local news outlets are effective means of receiving timely warning information during severe weather; and

WHEREAS; collaboration between local authorities, emergency responders, and Wisconsinites can mitigate the impact of severe weather events and speed recovery efforts; and

WHEREAS; on Thursday, April 16, 2026, Wisconsin residents are encouraged to participate in statewide tornado drills at 1:45 p.m. and 6:45 p.m., during which they can practice going to their tornado shelter locations and discuss preparedness with their families; and

WHEREAS; Wisconsinites are encouraged to have multiple ways to stay informed and create emergency plans to become more resilient and reduce the risks and costs of severe weather events; and

WHEREAS; this week, the state of Wisconsin joins WEM, along with its ReadyWisconsin campaign and Wisconsin's National Weather Service offices, in spreading awareness of the dangers of tornadoes and other severe weather hazards, as well as encouraging Wisconsinites to take the necessary actions to keep themselves and their families safe;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Tony Evers, Governor of the State of Wisconsin, do hereby proclaim April 13 through 17 2026 as

SEVERE WEATHER AWARENESS WEEK
