

WHEREAS; Tarlov cyst disease (TCD) is a rare disease characterized by the formation of cerebrospinal fluid-filled sacs in the nerve roots in the spine, most commonly near the base of the spine; and

WHEREAS; when asymptomatic, TCD may still cause bone erosion, radicular pain, weakness, and neurologic dysfunction due to nerve compression and inflammation, and when symptomatic, the disease can be progressive, extremely painful, and debilitating and often limits an affected individual's ability to walk, sit, or stand; and

WHEREAS; symptoms of TCD include but are not limited to varying levels of intractable pain, usually defined by cyst location and associated nerve distribution; and

WHEREAS; TCD pain often mimics other conditions, making the disease difficult to diagnose; and

WHEREAS; today, the state of Wisconsin joins all those affected by TCD, along with dedicated advocates and organizations across the state, in spreading awareness of the disease in the hopes of furthering research on the origins of the disease, ensuring better diagnoses, and developing non-invasive treatments and neurosurgical procedures;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Tony Evers, Governor of the State of Wisconsin, do hereby proclaim May 16, 2023, as
