

WHEREAS; regardless of age, background, income, or ZIP code, every Wisconsinite deserves access to a high-quality and affordable education, from early childhood to the state’s public, private, and technical college and university systems; and

WHEREAS; boasting 13 universities across more than 20 campuses and a statewide extension, and a total enrollment of over 160,000 students, the University of Wisconsin System is one of the largest public higher education systems in the United States and conferred 36,152 degrees in 2022; and

WHEREAS; Wisconsin was also the first state in the nation to establish a state-supported system of technical education institutions—the Wisconsin Technical College System—which now encompasses 16 colleges and 52 campuses and graduated 23,465 students in 2022; and

WHEREAS; thousands of students are enrolled in one of Wisconsin’s private, nonprofit colleges or universities, and each year, these institutions award nearly a quarter of the state’s bachelor’s degrees; and

WHEREAS; higher education informs innovation and self-actualization, equips individuals with the skills they need to realize their dreams, creates a more skilled and informed workforce, and helps to equalize resources in communities; and

WHEREAS; ensuring access to high-quality and affordable education requires meaningful investment in the state’s higher education systems, which includes removing financial barriers to accessing higher education, addressing the student debt crisis, and ensuring that facilities are safe and meet 21st century needs; and

WHEREAS; today, the state of Wisconsin honors students and educators at higher education institutions across the state, recognizes the state’s history of support for higher education and the long-standing guiding philosophy of the Wisconsin Idea, and reaffirms its commitment to prioritizing higher education in Wisconsin;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Tony Evers, Governor of the State of Wisconsin, do hereby proclaim June 6 2023 as
