

WHEREAS; Wisconsin has long been a leader in workforce programming, including registered apprenticeships, youth apprenticeships, and worker training grants, and is home to the nation’s first registered apprenticeship, workers’ compensation, and unemployment insurance programs; and

WHEREAS; Wisconsin is experiencing one of the strongest economic periods in state history, evidenced by the state’s consistently low unemployment and record-high number of Wisconsinites employed, and, in recent years, has achieved record-breaking participation in registered and youth apprenticeship programs, with more than 17,000 active registered apprentices and over 11,000 high school juniors and seniors participating in youth apprenticeships during the 2024-2025 school year; and

WHEREAS; Wisconsin’s workforce and economic successes are driven by the spirit of collaboration between educational institutions, state and local workforce agencies, labor unions, and diverse employers statewide; and

WHEREAS; the Wisconsin Department of Workforce Development (DWD) operates job centers at 25 locations—as well as Wisconsin’s online labor exchange, Job Center of Wisconsin—staffed with talented employment and training specialists who are knowledgeable on local employer demands and ready to assist individuals with securing employment, transitioning into new employment, and advancing their careers; and

WHEREAS; comprehensive job services play an essential role in increasing workforce participation through innovative programs that support all Wisconsin workers, including veterans, workers with disabilities, young workers, and justice-involved individuals, to ensure a robust pipeline of talent for in-demand industries; and

WHEREAS; making sure Wisconsin’s workforce is prepared to meet the needs of a 21st-century economy is a top priority, and during 2025 the Year of the Kid, the state is committed continuing its strategic efforts to bolster the state’s workforce, reduce barriers to workers, and make targeted investments in key sectors that support the success of Wisconsin’s world-class workers and working families; and

WHEREAS; this month, the state of Wisconsin reaffirms its commitment to remaining responsive, inclusive, and adaptable and to advancing policies that call for fair and equitable workforce practices, promote family-sustaining employment, and advocate for the protection and economic advancement of all Wisconsin’s workers, employers, and job seekers to build an economy that works for all Wisconsinites;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Tony Evers, Governor of the State of Wisconsin, do hereby proclaim September 2025 as

WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT MONTH

throughout the State of Wisconsin and I commend this observance to all our state’s residents.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Wisconsin to be affixed. Done at the Capitol in the City of Madison this 12th day of August 2025.

TONY EVERS, Governor
