

WHEREAS; kids are one of Wisconsin’s greatest resources for the future, and those with intellectual, academic, creative, leadership, and artistic talents have unique needs in order to fully develop their extraordinary skills and capabilities; and

WHEREAS; giftedness comes in a variety of domains and can be found in learners of all ages, abilities, ethnicities, gender identities, and income levels, but according to the National Center for Research on Gifted Education, students of color and students from low-income families are less likely to be identified or acknowledged as gifted in schools, characterizing a systemic inequality in education and academic recognition; and

WHEREAS; underachievement in school may be caused by several factors, underscoring the essential role that informed counselors, teachers, and parents play in helping kids navigate and overcome the social, emotional, and psychological challenges involved in growing up; and

WHEREAS; all kids deserve equal access to fair and unbiased identification strategies and resources regardless of identity or background, and Wisconsin remains committed to eliminating barriers to resources that help gifted learners reach their highest potential; and

WHEREAS; this month, the state of Wisconsin recognizes that it is through the dedicated and collaborative efforts of state agencies, school district staff, families, organizations, community members, educators, and students that the state can implement practices that help close gaps, promote greater equity in identifying and nurturing the talents and gifts of all learners, and build an education system that works for everyone;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Tony Evers, Governor of the State of Wisconsin, do hereby proclaim October 2025 as

GIFTED EDUCATION MONTH

throughout the State of Wisconsin and I commend this observance to all our state’s residents.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Wisconsin to be affixed. Done at the Capitol in the City of Madison this 17th day of September 2025.

TONY EVERS, Governor
