Instructions: Though not required, the Board strongly recommends obtaining assistance to help you apply for a commutation. Below is a list of organizations that could help provide free or low-cost services.

- Legal Action of Wisconsin
- Milwaukee Justice Center
- Legal Assistance to Incarcerated People Project

You must answer each question in the application form. If you do not know the answer, please answer to the best of your ability or recollection. Illegible or incomplete applications will be rejected. If you need more space to answer a question, you can attach additional pages to your application, so long as you are clear about which question you are answering.

Required Documents:

- Application.
- For each crime that you are seeking a commutation, a certified copy of that case's (1) criminal complaint, (2) information, (3) judgment of conviction, and (4) sentencing transcript. You can get certified copies from the Clerk of Courts in the county of conviction(s), or the Department of Corrections may provide copies directly to the Governor's Office or the Commutation Advisory Board. Uncertified copies will not be accepted.
- Letters of support or recommendation. Include letters from individuals or organizations who are committed to supporting your potential release and transition out of prison. These may include individuals and organizations willing to provide employment, housing, or treatment following your potential release.

Recommended Documents:

- Any other relevant documents that you would like the Commutation Advisory Board to consider. These may include copies of certificates, trainings, treatments, etc., that you completed while in prison.

Save a copy of your application and any documents you're submitting for your own personal record.

Your application, including the above-listed documents, must be mailed to the following address:

Office of the Governor
Attn: Commutation Advisory Board
P.O. Box 7863
Madison, WI 53707

Process after submission: If you are eligible and your application is complete, Governor's Office staff ("Staff") will then thoroughly review your application. They will also collect additional documents and materials and perform a thorough background check. Staff may reach out to you or your representative for additional information or supplemental materials as they deem necessary. Staff may also seek additional input from the judge, district attorney, defense attorney, and victims from the offense(s) for which you are seeking a commutation. This review may take over a year to complete.

A select group of qualified applicants may be invited to a hearing in front of the Board. If you are invited to a hearing, you will answer questions on your offense, your sentence, your reentry plan, and why you are requesting a commutation. Your name will be forwarded to the Governor for consideration if a majority of the Board's members present at the hearing recommend a commutation. If the Board or Governor deny your application, you will receive a formal denial letter in the mail. If denied, you may not appeal the decision, but you may reapply after 12 months.

Questions? Answers to frequently asked questions about the commutation process are available online on the commutation information page of the Governor's website at www.evers.wi.gov. Other questions may be emailed to GOVCommutations@wisconsin.gov. Note neither the Office of the Governor nor the Commutations Advisory Board can provide you with legal advice. If you need legal advice, contact your attorney.
