WHEREAS; today is “A New Day,” and the state of Wisconsin renews its commitment to educating folks about why menthols and other tobacco products will harm them, working to build tobacco-free communities that are healthy and just, and continuing efforts to change the policies that set Black Wisconsinites up for poorer health outcomes on the front end; and

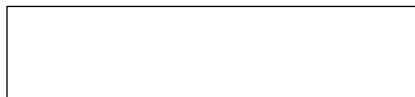

WHEREAS; now is the time to quit smoking, and folks everywhere can be involved in helping their family members, friends, and neighbors who might be struggling to quit by offering them support and letting them know they are not alone;
