Hmong History Month

In recognition of the Hmong community's contributions to Wisconsin, the Governor of Wisconsin, Tony Evers, proclaimed April 2019 as Hmong History Month.

Hmong people are an ethnic group originating from China's Yunnan province. They migrated to South Vietnam during the Vietnam War and later to Wisconsin. Hmong people have made significant contributions to Wisconsin's agriculture, health care, and education sectors.

Hmong people have their own language, Hmong language, which is part of the Hmongic family. They practice a combination of animism and Christianity.

The Hmong community has faced challenges in adapting to a new environment, but they have also thrived and made a significant impact on Wisconsin society.

In recognition of the Hmong community's contributions, the Office of the Governor of Wisconsin declared April 2019 as Hmong History Month.

The Governor encourages all Wisconsinites to celebrate Hmong History Month and learn about the rich history and culture of the Hmong people.
